Detailed Action

Foreign Priority

Receipt is acknowledged of papers submitted under 35 U.S.C. 119(a)-(d), which papers have been placed of record in the file. However, no translation has been included.

Claim Objections

Claims 3 and 4 are objected to because of the following informalities: claims 3 and 4 are incomplete sentences as the term "comprising" should read --comprises--. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Ahn et al.

A composition comprising Galla Rhois to be spread on female sanitary products, is claimed.

Ahn et al. teach using Galla Rhois-derived material to inhibit growth on certain bacteria (see page 442, col. 2, lines 4-7 and 17-21).

Therefore, the reference is deemed to anticipate the instant claims above.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 1654

Claim 2 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ahn et al. in view of Tsai et al.

A composition that comprises one or more components including Phellodendri cortex, is claimed.

The teachings of Ahn et al. were discussed supra. Ahn et al. did not specifically teach using of Galla Rhois for the use in sanitary napkins.

Tsai et al. teaches using the herb, Phellondendri cortex, as an herbal medicine in a composition because of the antibacterial and anti-inflammatory properties it contains (col. 8, lines 60-67 and col. 9, lines 1-8 and col. 14, lines 45-47). Tsai et al. does not teach using Phellondendri cortex in a composition for the use in sanitary napkins.

It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the claimed invention was made to combine the herbal agents discussed above for the following reasons. It is well known that it is prima facie obvious to combine two or more ingredients each of which is taught by the prior art to be useful for the same purpose, in this case, antibacterial agents in order to form a third composition which is useful for the same purpose. The idea for combining them flows logically from their having been used individually in the prior art. In re Sussman, 1943 C.D. 518; In re Pinten, 459 F.2d 1053, 173 USPQ 801 (CCPA 1972); In re Susi, 58 CCPA 1074, 1079-80; 440 F.2d 442, 445; 169 USPQ 423, 426 (1971); In re Crockett, 47 CCPA 1018, 1020-21; 279 F.2d 274, 276-277; 126 USPQ 186, 188 (1960).

From the teachings of the reference, it is apparent that one of ordinary skill in the art would have had a reasonable expectation of success in producing the claimed invention. Therefore, the invention as a whole was prima facie obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made, as evidenced by the references, especially in the absence of evidence to the contrary.

Therefore, with the showing of the references, the burden of establishing non-obviousness by objective evidence is shifted to the Applicant.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 3-6 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Summary

Claims 3-6 are free of the prior art because the prior art does not teach or suggest using Artemesia folia, Torilis anthriscus and Sophorae flavescens in the composition. Claims 1 and 2 are not allowable as discussed above.
